Featured Undergrad: Outgoing High Alpha Dan Philyaw

Where did you grow up and what High School did you graduate from and in what year?
Lee’s Summit, MO, Blue Springs South High School - Class of 2010

Why did you decide to become a member of Lambda Chi Alpha?
From the first time I met the guys on the summer float trip, I felt welcomed. Even though I was a Sophomore, it didn’t seem to matter and I knew that this was the place for me. I loved that Lambda Chi Alpha had a lot of diverse kinds of individuals within the fraternity.

What do you remember about your associate class?
How much I learned about the guys in my class in just one semester. Through the activities we did together we really had the opportunity to bond.

I’ll never forget how much fun that first Homecoming was, even though we had to work so much. I also made a great connection with my Big Brother, Nick Smith, who inspired me to really get involved with the chapter.

What is one of your most memorable moments in college?
Rushing the field after wins over Oklahoma in 2010 and Texas A&M in 2013...an unforgettable campus atmosphere and energy around the city of Columbia.

Did you hold any officer positions in the chapter or leadership positions on campus? If yes, which ones?
IFC VP of Finance and Records - Present
High Alpha - 2013, High Rho - 2012
Trulaske College of Business Student Ambassador - 2012 to present
College Music Committee

What is your current major and when will you graduate?
International Business (International Studies and Finance dual-degree), Philosophy and Spanish minor, Fall 2014 graduation

What are your plans after college?
Law school...location TBA

To all alumni brothers of the Gamma-Kappa Zeta:

In the nearly 90 years that the Gamma-Kappa Zeta has been affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha, more than 1700 men have experienced the initiation ritual, developed bonds of brotherhood and had innumerable growing experiences as college students. We’ve worked hard and had fun. We’ve held leadership positions at the university and put on philanthropy events. Attended Mizzou sporting events and hosted socials.

These shared experiences are what tie us together as brothers. Every year, a new class of young men joins the chapter to experience all of these things just like the alumni that preceded them. When you get to meet the undergraduate who holds the same office you did, or to talk to an undergrad about your experiences during initiation week — these are the types of mutually enjoyable experiences that alumni and newer members can share and that help forge those brotherly bonds across generations of Lambda Chis.

All of us have made a lifetime commitment to the organization in order to help the newer members have those shared experiences, to develop more leadership skills, to make important career and educational connections, and to gain insight into how to live their lives by moral and just principles. That sense of stewardship is what keeps a healthy organization going on for decades.

As the chapter moves past its centennial and into its second century, now is the perfect time to seize the moment and renew your commitment to help the organization grow and flourish. Mizzou is changing in new and exciting ways, and the chapter has many opportunities to build and develop with it. Our alumni can help that process in a variety of ways.

On the following pages, you’ll find a list of suggestions of ways to engage with the chapter in new ways. It’s by no means exhaustive — we welcome any alumnus who wants to help in any way. But the suggestions are also listed along with the appropriate person to contact if you’re interested in taking something on.

We encourage you to take a look and do what you can. The list includes a diverse group of activities that range from just keeping your contact information up-to-date to sponsoring activities or helping pay for capital improvements. They are all ways you can uphold your ritualistic duty to advance the chapter and foster the principles and goals that have kept Gamma-Kappa Zeta going for 100 years.

Thank you for your consideration, and please don’t hesitate to contact the Gamma-Kappa Alumni Association with any questions or concerns.

In ZAX,

Steve Oslica       Brett Anwander       Michael Shaw
GKAA President    Housing Corporation President    High Rho (Alumni Chairman)
