

Andy Dickson Scholarship

This scholarship was created by Andy's family and alumni of the Phi chapter in memory of Andrew 'Andy' Dickson (Phi'83), a member who exemplified the Sigma Alpha Mu ideals and was always there as a friend and brother. In his honor, this scholarship will be awarded each year to an undergraduate who best exemplifies Andy's traits of friendship, brotherhood, leadership and dedication. Leadership, both in the chapter and on campus, will be a key consideration.

2016

The leadership, friendship and brotherhood that Fra Dickson exuded is something I'll continue to strive for, and I am humbled to represent him as a scholarship recipient. -Bryce Erickson, 2016 recipient

2016 Honorable Mention Jake Sidransky was repeatedly nominated by peers from his chapter

2015

I take great pride in my diverse array of activities both in and out of the classroom, and understand that it all comes at a price. I am very excited to continue my pursuit of excellence in college and beyond, and have enormous gratitude for your support along the way.

Corey Schneider, 2015 recipient

Corey has shown the type of leadership that often goes unnoticed. Rather than leading our chapter to having bigger parties, Corey developed us into better people. - Brandon Gabay writing about Corey Schneider in 2015

Corey Schneider is a senior at Univ of Texas and is majoring in journalism. He's active on campus with Hillel, UT Television and referees UT club sports.

Omri Saadi was nominated by his entire chapter for his efforts not only as an outstanding leader but as 'go to' person for other members of the chapter.

I understand that Andy was everything you could want in a brother, and the fact that I have been compared to him for traits like leadership, dedication, and brotherhood is one of my greatest achievements.

-Omri Saadi, 2014

Omri Saadi graduated in Spring 2015 from University of Miami with a degree in accounting. He served as Prior, House Manager, Philanthropy Chair, and IFC Delegate.

2013

Josh Kolapo, who served as Prior for his chapter at University of West FL, and received the award his senior year, recently completed his Masters in Higher Education at University of South Florida and now works as an area coordinator for Hobart and William Smith College.
